11th May 2018

Our Learning Journey

Lucy, the Ranger from ZooLab, came to visit on Tuesday to show us various animals. Children had opportunities hold or view African snails, a giant millipede, a rat, tarantula and a snake.

Focus on Learning

Our various cross-curricular activities will continue into next week as we prepare to celebrate Prince Harry's wedding to Meghan. Children will continue to learn about the Royals and they will be painting a portrait of the Queen for our cloakroom display. We will also be looking at the great artist Andy Warhol and producing our own images of the Queen in his style.

In maths, we will be focusing on measurement and we will start the week by making our own clocks. Children will be encouraged to measure the gladioli that we have growing in our outdoor space. They also have sand in the sandpit to experiment with mass.

Children will be organising a menu for our Royal Afternoon Tea and preparing the food on Friday morning for our celebrations at 2 pm in "Windsor Castle", Cedar Class.

Star Learner!

Sophia D for her detailed sketch of a snake, rat and a snail. Well done Sophia!
