30th June 2017

This week we've really enjoyed travelling around London learning about Landmarks and the antics of The Naughty Bus...

Our Learning Journey

The class has been filled with amazing authors this week. We have been immersed in writing up our adapted versions of The Naughty Bus. We've included photographs and illustrations too! We've even made a Naughty Bus role-play (thanks to some amazing teaching assistants and James' mum for the box!)

We've been learning about capacity and choosing appropriate containers to measure and compare amounts of liquid.

We're glad to say we haven't needed our fans so much this week, but we're well prepared for next week's sunshine to make an appearance!

We've injected our usual daily schedule with flash mob exercises. Here we are practising our 'tree' posture...!

Star learner this week is...

Poppy!

Poppy has worked incredibly hard on her Naughty Bus adaptation this week. She took her time to think about how to change the beginning, middle and ending and how the characters would feel. You persevered through all the tricky writing too, well done Poppy!

Reminders

No notices this week!
