Learning Journey

Rehearsals for our nativity are going well; we can't believe that it is next week! We are looking forward to trying on our costumes and performing to the school and our families next week.

We continued our poetry learning this week by reading some repetitive nursery rhymes. We sang London's Burning in rounds and enjoyed writing our own rounds that kept to the same rhythm.

In Maths we have been learning about arrays. We used counters and moved them around into different arrays to help us solve multiplication questions.

In RE we have investigated signs and symbols in the Christmas story. We identified symbols on a variety of Christmas cards before designing our own card designs.

Star Learners

Our star learners this week are Anthony and Lucas F for creating a poem which linked to our Science learning about materials.

We had a visit today from Mrs Masey who will be teaching in our class after Christmas and will teach us on Thursdays and Fridays when Mrs Cheney leaves to have her baby.
