

YEAR 4 WEEKLY LEARNING

Ongar Place Primary School, Addlestone, Surrey O1932 842785

22nd March 2019

Our Learning Journey

We have started a new book in English, 'The Wolves in the Walls'. We tried to predict what was going to happen in the story just by looking at the front cover. It was fun to take part in a drama activity when we had to imagine what 'wolfish schemes' they might be plotting. We wrote lines for the wolves and when we performed we thought about using different voices and body language to show the characters of the different wolves.

We have been learning about how people celebrate new life in R.E. and this week we watched a film of a humanist baby naming ceremony. It took place in a park and was very informal but all the people looked like they were enjoying it.

For your information

We are going to focus on measurement in maths next week. Times tables Rockstars will be x8.

We are going to be doing some persuasive writing in English. We shall think about the different language that we would have to use to make our persuasion effective.
