This Week....

.....has been all about Fantastic Mr Fox by Roald Dahl.

Daily, we have listened to the audiobook and completed different activities. We have analysed the main characters looking for the evidence in the text to support our opinions. We learned about relative clauses and pronouns by writing sentences about nouns that appear in the story. We then wrote a script for a 'live' TV report about the actions of Boggis, Bunce and Bean in which we included relative clauses. After watching the film we designed persuasive posters for the game of 'whack-bat' and attempted to provide instructions. Finally, we wrote reviews of the book and designed a new front cover.

On Thursday we held our own costume catwalk competition. It was great fun. Everyone looked fantastic!

And we won the best decorated door competition.

Ambassadors of the Week

Bruno — telling us all about anthropomorphism when discussing Fantastic Mr Fox.

Matteo — for showing enthusiasm when writing his reporting script.

Information for Families

Thank you for all the costumes.
