This Week...

This week has been a little bit different.

In English we have worked on creating a 'genuine' evacuee letter or diary entry. We have tried to ensure that we have extended our use of punctuation and grammar.

We are also into full-blown 'Rock Bottom' rehearsals. On Tuesday we spent the morning practising the drama and in the afternoon, together with Year 6, we put together our big song and dance routine.

We have also had a focus on our aspirations.— thinking about what we would like to do later in our lives. We have researched lots of different opportunities and thought about what we would like to do and what we would be good at. What kind of an animal are you?

In History we have been trying to answer the question, 'How serious was the threat of invasion from Nazi Germany in June 1940?'. We read, listened and watched different forms of evidence to reach a decision.

What do you think?

Ambassadors of the Week

Harry —for giving reasoned arguments based on evidence about the risk of invasion and considering 'What if?'

Theo— for writing a well-structured and thoughtful evacuee letter.
