This Week...

We have done so much this week.

On Monday we 'reached out' and made our recording for the school CD.

After an assembly, given by Chertsey Museum we learned about the origins of Addlestone and some of the notable events in its development. Later, we studied local maps (the first being 200 years old) and looked to identify changes over time.

Our focus this year has been on the 1980s so we then focused on events that occurred in this decade in Addlestone. First, we found about the M25 which was opened in 1986 and then we learned about Princess Mary's Village Homes which was closed in 1981.

On Wednesday, we walked around Addlestone and discovered some of the hidden or forgotten history. We hugged the Crouch Oak. It took 3 adults and 4 children to encircle the trunk! I was so interested and surprised I forgot to take photos.

On Thursday, we all ventured out to different places. I took Runnymede Team to Runnymede where we learned about the importance of the Magna Carta.

Finally, we created some art work that comments on the M25, compiled our Local History booklets and put the finishing touches to our Addle-STONES. A VERY FULL WEEK!

Ambassadors of the Week
