

Learning Highlights...

A short week but busy week. Christmas came early and we spent an afternoon designing our Christmas cards—watch out for them coming home next week!

In geography we have been learning about life in Brazil compared to life in Britain. We have looked at the differences between living in a large city like Rio de Janeiro or a city within the Amazon Rainforest and compared it to our lives.

Learning Highlights

In maths this week we have been focussing on short multiplication. Although everyone is confident with the method many of the children need to secure their times tables knowledge to avoid errors!

Literacy has been interesting. We have been looking at writing obituaries for characters in our book. We have looked obituaries of famous people and identified the key features for our own writing. It was surprising that most of the children did not know who Winston Churchill, Margaret Thatcher and Princess Diana were and why they were famous!

Star of the Week.

This week Star of the Week goes to Zara. She has worked hard and has shown a really mature attitude to her learning. Well done Zara.
