

Learning Highlights

Another really busy week in year 6. As part of the celebrations of 100 years since the end of WW1 we have been creating tea light holders from jar jars and poppies from paper plates. These will be used to represent the 817 fallen soldiers from this area at various events over the next month or so.

On Monday afternoon, Rob from Professor Bubbleworks came to show us some experiments about air. It was great fun and the hall ended up being covered in toilet roll.
