Learning Highlights

Another great week—the children have really settled into the routines of year 6 and are working hard.

This week we have continued to read 'Holes' and produced some powerful persuasive posters for new inventions which look great on display in the classroom.

Huge congratulations to all the children who went for the positions of head and deputy boy and girl. Mrs Good and Mrs Pirie, along with some members of the school council, were very impressed with the confident and articulate presentations that all the children made.

As part of our focus on 50 years of Ongar Place we have been looking at books from the decades our school has been around. In year 6 we have looked at The Iron Man by Ted Hughes which was written in 1968. The children have produced some lovely art work to display in the hall.

Learning focus

In maths we have been focussing on place value and reading and writing really big numbers. The children have enjoyed challenging themselves to find the biggest number. They have enjoyed playing some games to reinforce their number knowledge.

Well done to all of year 6—everyone has worked hard this week. Star of the week goes to Abi Whearty, She has produced some fabulous writing in literacy, especially her writing about The Iron Man. Well done Abi.
