

Learning Highlights

It is lovely to see the children all back after the Easter holidays—I hope everyone managed to have a good rest!

We have hit the ground running in year 6 and the children are working hard revising and preparing for SATs.

In literacy we have started a new unit on emotive poetry. We will be reading and analysing a range of poetry linked to animal cruelty and then the children will be writing some of their own poems. We have already had some great discussions on the use of fur for fashion and animals for entertainment.

During our maths lessons we will be going over most of the maths topics ready for SATs as well as practising SATs style questions.

Our booster groups will continue up to SATs.

Our value this half term is courage. The children have been considering what courage means to them as well as reading quotes from famous people about courage. We have used hand-prints to make a lion—a symbol of courage—and written what courage means to us on the hand-prints.

Courage does not always roar, sometimes courage is the quiet voice at the end of the day saying,

"I will try again tomorrow."

Star of the Week this week goes to Molly. She has settled straight back into leaning after the holiday and has worked hard to ensure she understands everything she is doing. Well done Molly.
